QUACK! QUACK!

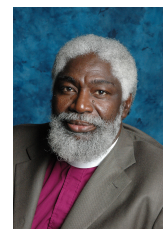

Jesus is the author and finisher of our faith.

The Christian church asserts itself as a follower of Christ, however, when one takes a close look at many of her practices she is anything but a follower of Christ. Paul Apostle to the gentiles declares Jesus to be the author and finisher of our faith. (Heb 12:2 KJV) I find it rather odd that the customs and practices of the founder of the Christian faith are not cherished and beloved tenets of every church that purports itself to be a member of the body of Christ. For instances, Christians for the most part worship on a different day than Jesus worshipped.

They do not follow the same dietary practices as Jesus and they celebrate different holydays than he. The Christian church often touts its Judeo roots but rejects all of the religious traditions of its Jewish heritage. In actually all of its major celebrations, such as Sunday worship, Easter celebration and Christmas have their origins in pagan worship. Tell me then. Why are they called Christian Churches? “What’s in a name? That which we call a rose by any other name will smell just as sweet.” Names are artificial, meaningless and often misleading conventions. If the practices of the Christian church have their origin in paganism then why are they called Christian Churches?

QUACK! QUACK!

"When I see a bird that walks like a duck and swims like a duck and quacks like a duck, I can call that bird a duck". It is rather obvious that many of the symbols and holidays of modern Christianity were appropriated from earlier pagan religions. QUACK! QUACK! Which is the true Christian church? Might it be the church that worships on the same day as Christ? Have the same dietary habits as Christ himself? And celebrates the same holydays as Christ? And have none of its symbols and celebrations in pagan worship? "Help me out here!" Which of the two churches sounds more Christ-like? "Wake up and smell the coffee!" We who are Christians ought to walk as Christ walked. "Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints." (Jude 1:3 KJV) It is the old path and belief systems that were practiced by the saints of bible times we are to seek not our own inventions.
